He married MARY ORAM 26 Jan 1833 in Breage Cornwall, daughter of RICHARD ORAM and CHRISTIAN JAMES. She was born 1800 in Breage Cornwall<sup>1</sup>, and died 1852 in Breage Cornwall.

Notes for ANDREW ANDREWARTHUR 1ST:

The following information has been extracted from a letter from John Smith of NSW to Margaret Watson in reply to a query on early Andrew Pioneers in the Eaglehawk area.

"The original name was Andrewartha. This name first appeared in 1564 as the name of a farm in St. Agnes, Cornwall, although it was not until the early 1600's that Andrewartha was recorded in a parish record as a family name when the children of John Trewartha were baptised as Andrewartha in the Parish of Gwithian. According to the "Handbook of Cornish Names" by G. Pawsley White, Andrewartha is very much a Cornish name and it means "The Upper Farm" or "The Upper Homestead". AN = the Dre = above, upper WARTHA = FARM, HOMESTEAD. It is possible Andrew Andrew was christened Andrew Andrewartha on 23 Feb 1794 at Cermoe, Cornwall. The son of John Andrewartha and Dorcas Carless:.

Notes for ANDREW ANDREW 2ND:

Immigration: to Australia 9 Nov 1852, Port Phillip

Accident: 27 Dec 1869 Bendigo

Newspaper Report 14 Jun 1870 (Bendigo)

Newspaper Report 19 Jul 1870 (Bendigo) According to www.gencircles.com. Andrew (2nd)

The mining accident occurred only 17 days after his marriage to Charlotte Hooley. Exact quotation from Bendigo Advertiser 28 Dec, 1869 reads "Serious Mining Accident. A man named Andrew Adams (six) met with a serious mining accident yesterday, on the Garden Gully line of reef. It appears that he, in the customary incautious manner of miners, was drawing a charge of gun cotton which had missed fire, when it exploded, so seriously injuring his right arm that it had to be amputated on his arrival at the hospital, to which place he was at once removed. He has also permanently lost the sight of the left eye" N.B. In the next issue a notice was printed correcting the name of the injured man to Andrew Andrew. Exact quote from the Bendigo Advertiser 15th June, 1870.

"A charitable concert was given last night in the schoolroom, Golden Square, for the purpose of aiding Andrew Andrew, a miner, who has been disabled for life by a mining accident. There was a good attendance and the entertainment, which included singing and dancing, appeared to afford great pleasure and amusement to the audience. The performers were amateurs who kindly offered their services for the occasion. Amongst there were Miss O'Sullivan and Miss O'Connor whose singing was really good and met with warm applause. Messrs Walker and Hamilton were encored in their songs and Messrs Strike and Paul elicited tremendous applause by their "Golden Shoe Dance." The flute and clarinet playing of Messrs Meakin was greatly admired. "Exact quote from the Bendigo Advertiser 20 July 1870 - "Concert - A concert was given at the Town Hall, Eaglehawk, on Monday, for the benefit of Andrew Andrew, a miner, who lost a hand and eye by an accident in a mining claim. There was a good attendance, and the entertainment afforded a great amount of pleasure to the audience. Amongst the ladies who took part, and assisted very materially towards the success of the concert were mesdames Early, Wright, Jinks, Kay and Misses Keiran, Edwards and Simpson. The following gentlemen also rendered good service, Messrs Reynolds, R H Andrew, Matthews, Bray and Beveridge."

Andrew's birth is listed in the June Quarter of 1843. On his marriage certificate he states he was born in Breage. The registration was probably made in Hilston.

Andrew was killed when a dray ran over him. He had lost his sight and was relying on a young lad to hold the horse steady as he tried to push the dray out of a rut. The dray was loaded with a water tank and the horse became agitated and pulled free jerking the cart over the top of Andrew. He died later in the Bendigo Base Hospital as a result of the accident.

He is listed as passenger No. 10 on the "John Davies" which sailed from Liverpool on 22 July 1852 and arrived in Portland Victoria in November. The ship was a 900 tonne barque under Master P. Hughes. 28

Persons died on the voyage. It appears they had an outbreak of cholera and 8 passengers lost their lives to that disease. Other deaths were due to whooping cough and dysentery or diahorrea.

Marriage Notes for ANDREW 2ND and CHARLOTTE HOOLEY:

The marriage is listed as being at "Cornwall" on the BDM Register of Victoria. The marriage certificate states the ceremony took place in "the house of the officiating Minister, Golden Square, December 11th 1869". The minister was Will L. Blamires of the Wesleyan Church.. Perhaps "Cornwall" was the name of the Minister's Residence. At the time of the marriage the groom resided in Sandhurst and the bride came from Long Gully. The witnesses were George Hooley and Lavinia Blamires. Andrew gave his parents names and Andrew Andrew and Mary Horian.

Notes for GEORGE JOHN ANDREW:

Marriage: separated 1910

With 2 of his brothers Andrew and Simon, supplied timber for fire wood to Bendigo and Melbourne. They also supplied wood used as shoring timber for the goldmines around Bendigo and timber sleepers to Victorian Railways. It has been said they were excellent axemen priding themselves in their trade and were in great demand. The timber felling took them as far as Gippsland where it is believed along with other members of the Andrew family they felled the largest tree in the Gippsland forest.

Bertha Wellins told a story of how her Grandmother would call her father and uncles early in the morning to go to work and after cooking a large breakfast, she would see them off with a large fresh bread, a leg of roast lamb and a pound of butter, all of which was eaten before arriving home at night. If George's horse had a heavy load it was said he would walk beside it the full way home "as his horse had enough to carry".

She was born 04 Jan 1890 in Cloncurry Qld, and died 06 Dec 1961 in Golden Square, Bendigo, Victoria.

Notes for ANDREW PHILIP ANDREW 3RD:

Andrew sent fire wood blocks to Melbourne by rail. The saw mill was near the railway station but, in 1922, was shifted to Arnold, six miles north of Taragulla. The wood was from dead trees that had been ringbarked to clear paddocks mainly in the Golden Triangle of Rheola-Kingower-Moliagul. When he was first married he cut wood at Wedderburn. The brothers would camp near where they were cutting timber.

She married (1) JAMES FREDRICK BARTLETT POCKOCK in Never married. He was born Abt. 1885 in Kangaroo Flat, Bendigo. She married (2) THOMAS ANDREW WELLINS 1932 in Bendigo, Victoria 12227. He was born 24 Jul 1902 in Manchester, Lancashire, UK, and died 14 Jun 1971 in Bendigo.

Notes for BERTHA AMELIA ANDREW:

After her mother left with a tinker by the name of Needam Singh, Bertha was put into the care of her Aunt Mary McDonald. It is believed that this was about 1910. She remained with the McDonald family until 1918. During this time her Aunt died and she was taken in by her cousin Elsie who had married Charles Stafford. Bertha lived in Geelong with Elsie for six years. It seems a problem arose over her upkeep and she was returned to her father in Bendigo. Bertha claimed that those 6 years were the best time of her childhood. After a long trip by train from Geelong to Bendigo the 10 year old girl was left on the station for several hours waiting to be picked up by her father. When he did come to collect her he was well and truly drunk and vowed and declared that he would never leave "his poor little orphan girl again". Within a fortnight her Grandmother to whose house her father took her has passed her into the care of her Aunt Dorcas Pocock. Dorcas suffered with an enlarged goiter which she refused to have removed. From the date Bertha arrived in the Pocock household she was treated as the help by her aunt. On days when that good lady was unwell she had to remain at home to tend to the housework and cooking and so by the time she had reached the age of 11 years, the school inspector decided, that as her absences exceeded her days in class she may as well not attend any more. Bertha would have liked to become a nurse but the lack of education and opportunity saw her confined to taking care of her Aunt and doing the chores around the house. At the age of 16 years she was delivered of her first son born to her Uncle Jim Pocock. The child was adopted by his father and her Aunt Dorcas and brought up as their son. The association between Bertha and Fred senior continued and in 1928 Bertha again became pregnant and this ended her years of drudgery in the Pocock household. This boy

George was put into foster care as Bertha was unable to support them both. Bertha then went into domestic service to support herself. After her marriage to Tom Wellins in 1931, George was adopted by Tom and raised as his own. This is the story of her early life as related to J. Wellins.

Notes for THOMAS ANDREW WELLINS:

During the depression, Tom was employed on a gang which laid railway tracks. This work required the men to move often along the route of the rail line. The wives and children accompanied the men and set up camps in a nearby field, living in tents, with very few belongings, washing in the nearest river making furniture from branches and wheat bags whenever possible. Beds were simple, a pile of grass or brush with a piece of canvas or a blanket thrown over the top. School aged children moved from school to school along the route. The money or coupons earned were referred to as the "Susso" (Sustenance Pension) and were the equivalent of today's "Dole".

He later joined the Army and although he did not go overseas, came home crippled with Arthritis and not expected to walk or work again. During the next few years Bertha became the major bread winner whilst Tom by sheer guts and determination overcame the most debilitating aspects of his disease and managed to get work as a caretaker. The family lived through the despair of losing a child, Tom gave direct blood transfusions twice in a few days to try and save the little girl but to no avail. Their last child a son born four years after her death helped heal their loss. As Bertha was busy keeping "the wolf from the door" the youngest child was raised by his father and sister Joan and had a great affinity with both. At one time they owned and ran "The Aunt Sally Cafe" in View St, Bendigo and later were the resident caretakers of the East Loddon Consolidated school Tom was finally granted a TPI pension and he, Bertha and Les returned to Bendigo buying a house in California Gully for the sum of 1,800 pounds which was borrowed from War Service Grants and repaid at a minimal amount per week. The repayments were so low that they barely covered the interest and when the house was sold by Bertha after 23 years they still owed $2,300.

Memories from Lilian.

My earliest recollection was when I was about 6 years old in 1920. We lived on Commercial Road, Tarnagulla, in a large house which was the de-licensed Victoria Hotel, and was part of the Victoria Theatre, Tarnagulla.

We had a large playground in the Public Bar, and also another outside in a brick paved courtyard, which was fenced off from the horses and stable yard, which accommodated the draught horses and drays that my Dad (Andrew) used to cart timber. Dad and his men used to saw the timber they had chopped in the bush, to the railway station where he had a saw mill. The wood was sawn into blocks and stacked into railway trucks to be transported to Melbourne, and from there to various wood yards.

Each month Dad went to Melbourne by train to collect the monies owed to him and get more orders. He would always buy a tin of candy called "Castlemaine Rock" from the Castlemaine refreshment shop at the station on his homeward trip, which we kids looked forward to as a special treat.

I remember getting Baptised at the Church of England church at Tarnagulla, because 5 of us were baptised on the same day. Phil, Jean, Dave, Verna and myself. There were tears, as "That man" (the minister) wet my new dress and no one stopped him.

The Victoria Theatre next door was always a source of interest. As kids we would creep through a sliding window (a servery) at the end of the bar, and go into the hall. This we did after the entertainment of the previous night and we often found couins which had been dropped accidentally by the patrons of the theatre. The Servery was used in the Gold Rush Days to provide drinks for the theatregoers. We had dances and balls held there as well as Travelling picture show, and travelling vaudeville entertainers, who would often stay a few nights. The vaudeville people usually lived in horse drawn caravans, they stayed in the nearby paddocks and shared the stables. Some stayed at the Golden Age Hotel. My brothers and sisters would play with any children that were with them. There was a creed that side of the grounds lined with peppercorn trees, which was good protection from the heat in summer.

I started school, a fairly big school from memory, at least 2 very large rooms, divided by a stairway to separate the grades. We had school concerts, singing and maypole dancing. At school I was terrified of the bigger boys who sat behind me and tied my pigtales to the back of the seat and generally teased and tormented me when the teacher wasn't looking. (Lil left school permanently after missing many months schooling helping her mother and the family. Lil's sister Jean thought Lil would have liked to become a nurse as she was very bright at school.)

In those days Tarnagulla was quite a reasonable sized town. There was a bookmaker's shop, a confectionary and cake shop, a millinery shop, a printer, a butcher a bank with facilities to process gold, and a book and paper shop. There was also the Golden Age hotel and a large general store, where you could buy everything from clothes, materials for dressmaking, groceries, hardware and farm needs. Mr Reid, a Scot, owned the store and at New Year, everyone went to the Highland Gathering at Maryborough. He would come swirling past in his Scottish kilt to to the railway station, as did everyone, as there were not many cars.

Opposite the General store on the road to Dunolly was a big house with a large garden, the family kept wallabies, and the young ladies rode large tri-cycles. I thought they were an excellent idea.

At the other end of town was a blacksmith shop owned by a family named MacNamee and they had a pet pig. I was terrified of the pig. It got into our yard one day and wanted to play. I was in the yard with my brother Dave who was a toddler, and the pig up-ended an empty horse feed box and got us pinned underneath it.

Mum came looking for us and rescued us.

There was also a Cemetery and a fire station, which had a large bell and could be heard for miles around. It was used for emergencies as well as fires. Tarnagulla also had a large dam on the edge of the park behind our place where cricket and tennis was played.

When I was 8 years old we moved to the town of Arnold, Victoria. The lease at the Tarnagulla station had expired and dad had a house built near the railway station at Arnold, which was about 6 miles along the rail line towards Inglewood. We had a horse paddock each side of the house, one for overnight and the other a much bigger one which had a dam in it, and the horses thundered around it.

I remember there was much activity with new motor trucks and horse drawn drays carting wood. The horses had an advantage for a while, they could go some places the trucks could not. Eventually Dad bought an International truck.
